

FLUSHING HAS SOCIETY CIRCUS.

ALDERMEN LINE UP
ON CURRAN REPORTFight Put Over Until Tuesday,
but Wigwam Begins Campaign to Save Waldo.

FULL ATTENDANCE SOUGHT

Tammany Claims All Borough
Presidents Are Against It—
Curran Trying to Eliminate
Politics from Fight.

With the Curran committee report on police conditions turned over to the Board of Aldermen yesterday, Commissioner Waldo's supporters began a campaign of opposition, which will be continued until the aldermen turn down the proposal to demand the Police Commissioner's removal.

Lobbyists for Waldo approached many of the fusionists in the board with arguments against the report, and every alderman in the council received a letter from Ernst Bohm, secretary of the Central Federated Union, commending Waldo's attitude toward organized labor and bidding for his support.

While the actual fight over the report on the floor of the board was put over until Tuesday, both sides were drawing up their lines yesterday when the report was presented. Both Dowling, the Tammany leader, and Curran, sponsor of the report, will work to get out a full attendance at the meeting next week. There were fewer than fifty members on hand yesterday, and neither leader cared to risk the question at a meeting so sparsely attended.

Claims All but Cromwell.

Dowling intimated that he had reason to count on the support of all of the Borough Presidents except George Cromwell of Richmond, a hope apparently based on the idea that the Borough Presidents would not care to approve a report "throwing Waldo to the wolves" and then face the Mayor in meetings of the Board of Estimate, but the fusionists declared that Borough President McAneny and President Miller would be found voting for the report when it came up for final action.

Curran said last night that he would try to have the report considered on its merits and without regard to party lines. When the complete report is published in "The City Record" on Thursday the chairman of the committee plans to put a copy in the hands of each member of the board. With it Curran plans to send a letter asking each alderman to read the report and then challenge him with any part of it which the reader does not think is based solely upon the record of evidence taken.

The possibility of defeat for the report in the Board of Aldermen has stirred up supporters of the police inquiry who contributed to the fund by which investigators were hired for the use of the Curran committee. Dr. William H. Allen, for the Bureau of Municipal Research, issued an official denial of the story that the bureau was planning to take the matter to Governor Sulzer if the aldermen turned it down.

As Dr. Allen phrased it, the bureau's interest is in having "the impersonal, non-political, non-partisan facts gathered for the aldermanic police investigation used to improve police methods, no matter who is Police Commissioner," and the bureau, he said, had no interest in the removal or retention of a particular Police Commissioner.

"The supreme need now," Dr. Allen concluded, "is to learn whether the Mayor and candidates for Mayor propose to use the aldermanic inquiry's facts to reorganize the routine methods which now inevitably prompt incompetence."

How Appeal May Be Made.

According to the reports circulated among the fusionist aldermen yesterday, the appeal to Governor Sulzer on the Waldo removal question, if that is defeated in the board, will be made through some prominent citizen, who will prefer charges based on parts of the Curran committee's exposure of conditions in the department under Commissioner Waldo.

Chief among these points, it was said, would be the matter of the reinstatement of Patrolman Thomas F. Campbell, which Waldo's opponents claim was a direct violation of the law. Campbell's reinstatement at the end of a nine-year fight, according to a story told yesterday, came as the result of a "trade" by which a powerful Tammany Assemblyman, a friend of Campbell's, agreed to support the so-called "Gaynor charter" in the last Legislature in return for the reinstatement of the patrolman.

Commissioner Waldo, his friends admitted yesterday, is more worried over the recent demands for his official head than he was over any of the startling exposures in the Police Department that followed in the wake of the Rosenthal murder. He is reported as believing that the report, carrying with it the recommendation for his removal, will gain a number of indorsing votes from Tammany members who have been keeping very quiet in all the advance fight talk.

He is not ready to believe the claim of Alderman Dowling that the thirty-seven Tammany votes in the board will be cast solidly for the rejection of the report, and in spite of his many recent conferences with Mayor Gaynor he is said to have admitted to friends that he is not at all sure of what kind of action the Mayor might take if the removal recommendation came to him with the approval of a majority of the aldermen.

Features of four-day carnival given in aid of hospital.
Top cut—The Midway. Lower cut—The freaks.

JUSTICE MUST EXPLAIN TO STOP "POISONED PEN" SEEK SLAIN BABY'S MAID

Townsend Scudder Faces Court
Order Obtained by Lawyer.ATTACKED IN DECISION
Plaintiff Resents Allegations
Made in Davis Case—Bar Association May Act.

An unusual proceeding was started in Brooklyn yesterday, when Robert H. Wilson, a lawyer, asked the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court to investigate the statements made regarding him a short time ago in a decision by Justice Townsend Scudder, of the Supreme Court.

Mr. Wilson obtained from the court an order directing the justice to show cause why he should not be compelled to give his grounds for taking the lawyer to task for his conduct in the case of Buell G. Davis. The order is returnable Monday. In the same decision in which he attacked Mr. Wilson Justice Scudder scored the Appellate Division for permitting Mr. Davis to be sent to jail and deprived of his property, contrary to a decision of the Court of Appeals.

The litigation involved the disposition of the estates of William Z. King, of Greenport, Long Island, and his widow, Mrs. Mary E. Davis King. Mr. Davis was the woman's executor. After considerable litigation the Court of Appeals decided that Mr. King had left his money absolutely to his wife. Later the lower courts held that she had only a life interest, and demanded that the executor account for the property which came into his hands, at the same time appointing George H. Seward as the administrator of Mr. King's estate, under the assumption that Mr. King had left his widow only a life interest.

Mr. Davis failed to account, and was sent to jail, from which he was only released after he had given up his last cent and was broken down in health. This, Justice Scudder pointed out, was wrong in view of the decision of the highest court in the state, and he advised Mr. King to take the matter formally before the Court of Appeals. His suggestions are now being carried out.

In his decision Justice Scudder stated that Burr, Combs and Wilson were at first attorneys for the King family and later the attorneys for Mr. Seward. Mr. Davis hired Frederick H. Tasker as his lawyer, and an effort was made to get his fees away from him. This effort was blocked by Justice Scudder's decision. Mr. Wilson is vice-president of the Brooklyn Bar Association and did not care to start proceedings through his own association, so applied to the Appellate Division.

It is understood that the Kings County Bar Association has the matter under consideration also, and is about to make a report upon its investigations. Mr. Wilson says that the allegations against him are so serious that they ought either to be proved conclusively or else absolutely disproved.

Mr. Davis failed to account, and was sent to jail, from which he was only released after he had given up his last cent and was broken down in health. This, Justice Scudder pointed out, was wrong in view of the decision of the highest court in the state, and he advised Mr. King to take the matter formally before the Court of Appeals. His suggestions are now being carried out.

In his decision Justice Scudder stated that Burr, Combs and Wilson were at first attorneys for the King family and later the attorneys for Mr. Seward. Mr. Davis hired Frederick H. Tasker as his lawyer, and an effort was made to get his fees away from him. This effort was blocked by Justice Scudder's decision. Mr. Wilson is vice-president of the Brooklyn Bar Association and did not care to start proceedings through his own association, so applied to the Appellate Division.

It is understood that the Kings County Bar Association has the matter under consideration also, and is about to make a report upon its investigations. Mr. Wilson says that the allegations against him are so serious that they ought either to be proved conclusively or else absolutely disproved.

Mr. Davis failed to account, and was sent to jail, from which he was only released after he had given up his last cent and was broken down in health. This, Justice Scudder pointed out, was wrong in view of the decision of the highest court in the state, and he advised Mr. King to take the matter formally before the Court of Appeals. His suggestions are now being carried out.

In his decision Justice Scudder stated that Burr, Combs and Wilson were at first attorneys for the King family and later the attorneys for Mr. Seward. Mr. Davis hired Frederick H. Tasker as his lawyer, and an effort was made to get his fees away from him. This effort was blocked by Justice Scudder's decision. Mr. Wilson is vice-president of the Brooklyn Bar Association and did not care to start proceedings through his own association, so applied to the Appellate Division.

It is understood that the Kings County Bar Association has the matter under consideration also, and is about to make a report upon its investigations. Mr. Wilson says that the allegations against him are so serious that they ought either to be proved conclusively or else absolutely disproved.

Mr. Davis failed to account, and was sent to jail, from which he was only released after he had given up his last cent and was broken down in health. This, Justice Scudder pointed out, was wrong in view of the decision of the highest court in the state, and he advised Mr. King to take the matter formally before the Court of Appeals. His suggestions are now being carried out.

In his decision Justice Scudder stated that Burr, Combs and Wilson were at first attorneys for the King family and later the attorneys for Mr. Seward. Mr. Davis hired Frederick H. Tasker as his lawyer, and an effort was made to get his fees away from him. This effort was blocked by Justice Scudder's decision. Mr. Wilson is vice-president of the Brooklyn Bar Association and did not care to start proceedings through his own association, so applied to the Appellate Division.

It is understood that the Kings County Bar Association has the matter under consideration also, and is about to make a report upon its investigations. Mr. Wilson says that the allegations against him are so serious that they ought either to be proved conclusively or else absolutely disproved.

Mr. Davis failed to account, and was sent to jail, from which he was only released after he had given up his last cent and was broken down in health. This, Justice Scudder pointed out, was wrong in view of the decision of the highest court in the state, and he advised Mr. King to take the matter formally before the Court of Appeals. His suggestions are now being carried out.

In his decision Justice Scudder stated that Burr, Combs and Wilson were at first attorneys for the King family and later the attorneys for Mr. Seward. Mr. Davis hired Frederick H. Tasker as his lawyer, and an effort was made to get his fees away from him. This effort was blocked by Justice Scudder's decision. Mr. Wilson is vice-president of the Brooklyn Bar Association and did not care to start proceedings through his own association, so applied to the Appellate Division.

U. S. Commissioner Orders
Postoffice Investigation.NEW LETTERS ARE FOUND
One Sent to Daughter of Eye
Specialist Causes Federal Official to Act.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.]
Elizabeth, N. J., June 10.—The first definite action by the federal postoffice authorities to investigate the "poisoned pen" letters which have disturbed Elizabeth was taken late today, when United States Commissioner Richard Stockton in Newark consented to send Frank Butler, a postoffice inspector at present in New York, to this city to-morrow. The immediate matter under consideration is a letter sent to Dr. Charles H. Schlichter, an eye specialist. The letter contained unprintable paragraphs about Dr. Schlichter's little daughter.

Abraham J. Davis, counsel for Mrs. Charles F. Jones, who caused the arrest of Mrs. Nelson L. Pollard on the charge of sending letters to Mrs. Jones, communicated with Commissioner Stockton today. It is understood that Mr. Davis said he was in possession of the letter which was mailed to Dr. Schlichter and that the doctor was willing to testify.

On this promise Commissioner Stockton agreed to take the matter up. Mr. Davis refused to discuss the new letter and Dr. Schlichter and his family had gone to Spring Lake for the week end. Should the federal authorities find evidence to warrant a prosecution, it is possible that the adjourned police court hearing will not take place.

Mrs. Jones would not be able to be present for several weeks in any event because of her delicate state of health, and Mr. Davis is not yet ready to say he will take the case before a justice of the peace other than Judge O. P. Mahon, who adjourned the hearing yesterday.

Dr. Charles F. Jones and the Pollards were reticent today, Dr. Jones having changed his attitude since yesterday. An attempt was made some weeks ago to get the postoffice authorities to take up an investigation, but the evidence presented at that time was not sufficiently strong to warrant action, according to S. E. Bigelow, of Newark, another United States Commissioner, who talks with a reporter for The Tribune to-night.

Since then, however, additional letters have been obtained by Mr. Davis. There is a possibility of a hearing in Mrs. Jones's home within a few days.

AFTER BROADWAY LOAFERS

Merchants Ask Waldo to Instil
"Move On" Spirit.

It will not be the fault of the several hundred merchants who compose the Broadway Association if Broadway does not experience the "clean-up" of its career in the near future, for at their meeting at the Hotel McAlpin yesterday a lot of things were done with this as the principal object in view.

Merchants whose stores extend from 56th street to 46th street in Broadway have sent in so many complaints about the men who in groups loiter along the sidewalks that a resolution was adopted asking Police Commissioner Waldo to instill the "move on" spirit into the policemen and compel them to enforce the law which prohibits loitering.

One merchant told of his experiences while trying to rent a store. "I found a group of twenty-five loafers," he said, "congregated daily in front of this store, and I finally told the landlord that all negotiations were off and I would not rent the place at any price."

With the co-operation of the president, J. D. Thompson, who presided, a special committee, composed of H. G. Opycke, L. M. Boomer and J. D. Wilhoite, was authorized to take steps to clear the obstructions to traffic at 56th street and Broadway.

Secretary David Robinson said that Frank Hedley, general manager of the New York City Railways, had notified him that noiseless crosswalks are to be installed at Broadway and 56th street at once.

JOHNSON ON FIREWORKS

Issues Early Warning About
Fourth of July Sale.

Fire Commissioner Joseph Johnson last night made the following statement in regard to selling fireworks for Fourth of July celebrations:

"It is illegal to sell fireworks in this city except under the provisions of Section 222 of the Municipal Explosives Commission's regulations. This section says that no permit for the storage or sale of fireworks shall be issued for any wooden structures or for stores where the premises above are occupied as a tenement house, school, workshop, factory, theatre or place of public amusement. No place selling tobacco, cigars and cigarettes can obtain a permit."

$50 FOR HIS OLD ROOM

Patron of Astor House Outbids
Dealers in Furniture Sale.

The sale of the Astor House furniture began yesterday morning, and a large crowd attended. The prices paid for the furniture in each room, however, did not range much higher than $50, except in one instance, where the bidder was a man who had a sentimental interest in the room.

Many of the dealers, not knowing why the man desired the furniture in this particular room, No. 22, kept up a spirited bidding, until the sale was closed at $50. The furniture was bought by Mr. Crane, who had lived in the room for many years. While it was a trifle old-fashioned, it was in good condition.

The sale will be continued every day. The famous Chinese bridal canopy bed, said to be worth several thousand dollars, will be auctioned off on Monday.

Police Say Sorenson Servant
Made Threats.WAS DISMISSED MAY 20
Autopsy Shows Child Poisoned and Reveals Needles in Flesh—Prosecutor to Act.

District Attorney Matthew J. Smith of Queens County is investigating the death of Anna, the eleven-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sorenson, of No. 615 Gherardt avenue, Woodhaven, Long Island, who died suddenly on Monday. Coroner Gustav J. Schafer's autopsy showed that the child had died from poison, two needles also being found in her body.

Coroner Schafer sent to the District Attorney's office the contents of the child's stomach, a bottle partly filled with medicine prescribed for the child by Dr. E. P. Porter, of Brooklyn, the nursing bottle from which she drank shortly before she became ill, and a bottle of black shoe polish found in the Sorenson home. These are being analyzed, but the District Attorney has not yet received the report of the chemist.

Though District Attorney Smith refuses to discuss the case, it is known that his whole office is at work trying to solve the mystery and that his two county detectives are conducting an investigation independent of that being pursued by Captain Rotherburg, of the Ozone Park precinct.

The police are trying to find the whereabouts of a Swiss woman named Alice, who was formerly a servant of the Sorensons. She was discharged two weeks ago, and it is said threatened to be revenged. The police refuse to reveal Alice's last name, but have not succeeded in locating her. Alice is described as being about forty-five years old.

The servant left the employ of the Sorensons on May 20 and it was admitted yesterday at the Sorenson home that she had left without her pay. She had been employed by them about two months. Ella Jerrold, of Baldwin, Long Island, a fourteen-year-old girl, who has been visiting the Sorensons, declares that the servant treated the Sorenson children brutally and also made threats against their parents. The neighbors, however, do not agree with this statement, several of them saying that the servant seemed unusually fond of the children and particularly of Anna.

COOKE AND MISS WHALEY

WED IN HOTEL PARLOR

Floretta Misses Train and
Spoils Romance of Chase for
License to Marry.

Jere Knoda Cook and Floretta Whaley were married in the parlor of the Stamford Hotel, in Stamford, Conn., yesterday morning by Francis Tipper, a justice of the peace. Despite the legal ceremony, Mrs. Nalrah Whaley, the seventy-five-year-old grandmother of the bride, who has always been bitter against the former clergyman since the elopement, said last night she would not receive Cook nor forgive him. Mrs. Whaley, who lives at Hempstead, said when she heard the news of the marriage that she would always be glad to have her granddaughter and her children visit her.

The belated marriage of Cook and the young woman with whom he eloped six years ago, when she was a schoolgirl seventeen years old and he was an Episcopalian minister at Hempstead, was to have taken place Tuesday night in the railroad station at Stamford, but Miss Whaley did not arrive. She missed the train from New York.

There was much disappointment when it became known that their original wedding plans would be impossible of fulfillment since the added romantic touch to the affair of chasing through three counties during the day to obtain a certified copy of the divorce would be lost. The decree was granted to Mrs. Miranda Cooke in Hartford on Friday, and since it was found the couple could not marry in New York a fitting climax had been arranged in the state in which the divorce was granted.

Cook gave his name, spelling it without the final "e," his age as forty-three and occupation as a newspaper man. He has been working since his elopement as a painter. Miss Whaley said she was twenty-three years old.

Following the marriage, Cook and his bride eluded a curious crowd that had been attracted to the hotel where they were married and hid themselves somewhere in a suburb of Stamford. They were expected to rejoin their two children at No. 564 West 173d street late last night.

The children, Paul and Chester, were cared for yesterday by the negro janitor of the house. They were puzzled over the absence of their parents and eagerly inquired for them of persons who had previously made their acquaintance.

SUFFRAGIST HURT IN RUNAWAY.

Wilcox, Conn., June 10.—Mrs. E. C. H. Schenck, well known as a worker for suffrage, was seriously injured near her home here today when the team of horses she was driving ran away. She was thrown over the dashboard and the hoofs of one of the horses struck her in the chest. She has a broken shoulder.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,
STEP RIGHT THIS WAYGlittering, Gorgeous, Gigantic
Galaxy of Greatness on View in Flushing.

IT'S THE SOCIETY CIRCUS

For the Benefit of the Flushing
Hospital—Myriad Marvels,
All for Small Sum of
One Dime, 10 Cents.

All Flushing is joyful this morning, for it is the opening day of the annual Society Circus for the benefit of the Flushing Hospital. During the four days that the circus lasts, Broadway and its varied attractions will be a pack number in the opinion of the Flushingites. When the gates are thrown open at 1 o'clock this afternoon they will lead to a four-day mesocosm, and all Flushing and most of Flushing's friends will make pilgrimages thither. This is the fourth year that the circus has been given, and though the sums added to the funds of the hospital in previous years have ranged from $12,000 to $18,000, the managers expect this year's record to lead all that have gone before.

The circus tents are all in place and the booths and side shows all ready. The circus only awaits the opening speech by Borough President Connolly.

The attractions this year are more numerous than ever. In the big tent there will be a two-ringed circus, and the programme will be a varied one. The professional features will include the Rex Comedy Circus, the Loretos, De Rados's sheep and goats, the great Novikoff, slack wire marvel, Louie, the butting ram, direct from the Hippodrome; the Carl Dammann troupe of acrobats; and the undrillable mule, for the successful riding of which is offered a prize of $25.

Society in its Own Circus.

But a "society circus" must never be all professionals, and this one surely is not. Clowns, twenty of them, all home talent, led by Fred Leavitt, are to disport themselves as only gentleman clowns know how. Then there is to be a peerless ringmaster in Frank B. McCord, the crack of whose whip will bring forth miracles, among them the appearance of Signor Francisco McCorditti and the Basket-Ketti Stallions. Just what is the "Ancient Order of Suffragettes" and what is "Abigail's Rescue" have been kept a dark secret, but a secret which surely will be revealed to-night.

Of course, there is a Midway, on which are side shows and booths innumerable. The Elks have a show of "freaks" such as Flushing has never seen, and five local societies are to present vaudeville shows in as many different tents. In all there are twenty-two tents and fifty booths, and twelve hundred persons have given their services free of charge that the circus may be a success.

A feature that has caused great interest among the Flushingites is the knickerbockers or short skirts in the little pony which is to be raffled off at a cent a chance. The pony was tethered in the circus grounds all day yesterday, and was continually surrounded by an admiring, expectant throng.

The Circus Masters.

The president of the circus, and the man who has done more than any one else to insure its success, is Clarence M. Lewis, while the secretary is Ellis Parker Butler, the humorist. The price of admission to the grounds is 10 cents, each show being extra. The grounds, which are directly opposite the hospital, provide ample parking space for automobiles, and a car line passes directly in front of the entrance, so that the circus will be remarkably easy of access.

COOKE AND MISS WHALEY

WED IN HOTEL PARLOR

Floretta Misses Train and
Spoils Romance of Chase for
License to Marry.

Jere Knoda Cook and Floretta Whaley were married in the parlor of the Stamford Hotel, in Stamford, Conn., yesterday morning by Francis Tipper, a justice of the peace. Despite the legal ceremony, Mrs. Nalrah Whaley, the seventy-five-year-old grandmother of the bride, who has always been bitter against the former clergyman since the elopement, said last night she would not receive Cook nor forgive him. Mrs. Whaley, who lives at Hempstead, said when she heard the news of the marriage that she would always be glad to have her granddaughter and her children visit her.

The belated marriage of Cook and the young woman with whom he eloped six years ago, when she was a schoolgirl seventeen years old and he was an Episcopalian minister at Hempstead, was to have taken place Tuesday night in the railroad station at Stamford, but Miss Whaley did not arrive. She missed the train from New York.

There was much disappointment when it became known that their original wedding plans would be impossible of fulfillment since the added romantic touch to the affair of chasing through three counties during the day to obtain a certified copy of the divorce would be lost. The decree was granted to Mrs. Miranda Cooke in Hartford on Friday, and since it was found the couple could not marry in New York a fitting climax had been arranged in the state in which the divorce was granted.

Cook gave his name, spelling it without the final "e," his age as forty-three and occupation as a newspaper man. He has been working since his elopement as a painter. Miss Whaley said she was twenty-three years old.

Following the marriage, Cook and his bride eluded a curious crowd that had been attracted to the hotel where they were married and hid themselves somewhere in a suburb of Stamford. They were expected to rejoin their two children at No. 564 West 173d street late last night.

The children, Paul and Chester, were cared for yesterday by the negro janitor of the house. They were puzzled over the absence of their parents and eagerly inquired for them of persons who had previously made their acquaintance.

SUFFRAGIST HURT IN RUNAWAY.

Wilcox, Conn., June 10.—Mrs. E. C. H. Schenck, well known as a worker for suffrage, was seriously injured near her home here today when the team of horses she was driving ran away. She was thrown over the dashboard and the hoofs of one of the horses struck her in the chest. She has a broken shoulder.

JERSEY CITY VOTERS

KILL WITPENN'S HOPES

Only One Adherent of Mayor
Elected to Board of Five
Commissioners.

FAGAN SCORES TRIUMPH

Republican Leads Nearest Rival
by 2,400—Three Followers
of "Jim" Smith Win Approval of Electorate.

Three anti-Wilson Democrats, one Wilson Democrat and one Progressive Republican, who voted for President Wilson, were elected to govern Jersey City yesterday under the commission form of government adopted by the voters there two months ago.

Former Mayor Mark M. Fagan is the lone Republican chosen, and he was high man. The other commissioners elected are A. Harry Moore, a Wittpenn Democrat, and Frank Hague, George F. Brensinger and James J. Ferris, all of whom were ardently supported by the followers of "Jim" Smith and his machine. Thomas J. Stewart, the only other Republican among the ten candidates, was sixth.

The result of the election is a defeat for Mayor H. O. Wittpenn of Jersey City, who is the candidate of President Wilson's friends for the Democratic nomination for Governor this fall. Wittpenn confidently expected that at least three of the five candidates supported by him and his organization would win, and the success of the three anti-Wittpenn Democrats practically puts him out of the running for Governor.

Fagan Polls 21,419.

The vote was as follows:

Mark M. Fagan	21,419
George F. Brensinger	19,010
James J. Ferris	18,977
Frank Hague	17,429
A. Harry Moore	15,378
Thomas J. Stewart	13,477
Carl G. Schuman	12,425
Charles O'Neil	12,247
Joseph Farmer	11,899
John H. Morris	10,534

The five commissioners chosen yesterday will serve for four years, unless each one or all of them should be recalled in the meantime. Mr. Fagan is an undertaker and is also a member of the Hudson County Tax Board. He served three terms as Mayor of Jersey City.

Mr. Ferris is a business man, Mr. Brensinger is a lawyer, Mr. Moore has been a public officeholder for the last six years and Mr. Hague also has been an officeholder for many years. He is the Smith leader of Hudson County and fought against the election of Wilson delegates to the recent Democratic National Convention.

Interest in the election was keen, a crowd of 10,000 persons being in and around the City Hall when the returns were being received. The total vote cast was 31,387, 287 less than participated in the primaries a month ago, and only a couple of thousand less than the number voting at the election in November. Although the campaign was an strenuous one, the election yesterday was comparatively quiet.

The results of yesterday's election came as a surprise, for it was expected at least three of the Wittpenn candidates would pull through, thus allowing the Mayor to retain his hold on the city's affairs. Mr. Wittpenn made a personal fight for his candidates, going on the stump each night and delivering many speeches in their behalf. It was really a fight for his political life, because on the result of the election depended whether or not he was to become the Democratic candidate for Governor this fall. It is now generally believed that Mr. Wittpenn has been eliminated as a strong factor in the contest for Governor, despite the fact that the President's friends intend to stick to him.

Fielder's Chances Improved.

Governor James F. Fielder, one of Mayor Wittpenn's opponents for Governor, also lives in Jersey City, and yesterday's results are taken as an indication that he won't have much difficulty in carrying this city at the coming primaries.

The five commissioners elected yesterday will formally take charge of the affairs of Jersey City on Tuesday, when Mayor Wittpenn will retire from office. About the first thing they will do will be to select one of their number as Mayor, who will have no greater power than the other commissioners, save that he will preside at the meetings of the commission. He will receive an additional $500 a year in salary. Each commissioner will receive $3,000 a year.

After selecting a Mayor, the commissioners will then divide the city government into five departments, each department having a commissioner at its head. All of the present boards will be abolished. These departments are Public Affairs, which will be in charge of the Mayor; Accounts and Finance; Streets and Public Improvements; Public Safety; and Parks and Public Property.

The Accounts and Finance Department will absorb the present Board of Finance, the City Collector's office, the Tax office, the City Treasurer's office and the Controller's office. The Street and Improvement Department will take over the work now done by the Street and Water Board, the Public Safety Department will take over the Police, Fire and Health departments, and the Parks and Public Property Department will take over the Shade Tree Commission, the Harbor Board and the City Hall Commission.

Each commissioner will have complete control of his department, and can be held individually responsible for its conduct, and if he fails to make good he can be recalled by the citizens after he has served a year.

Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, came from Washington yesterday afternoon to vote.

OIL OUSTER REPORT MADE

Missouri Court Gets Facts About
Standard of Indiana.

Jefferson City, Mo., June 10.—Containing no finding or recommendations, the report of John Montgomery, of Sedalia, Mo., Commissioner of the Missouri Supreme Court, to take testimony in the rehearing of the state's ouster proceedings against the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, was filed with the court here today.

The report conveyed a transcript of evidence taken at hearings in Kansas City, Chicago and Jefferson City and embraced the sworn testimony of officers and directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana. This, in brief, was that all of the anti-trust laws of the state have been observed strictly since proceedings against the company were started, and that this is to be the policy of the company in the future.

JERSEY CITY VOTERS
KILL WITPENN'S HOPESOnly One Adherent of Mayor
Elected to Board of Five
Commissioners.

FAGAN SCORES TRIUMPH

Republican Leads Nearest Rival
by 2,400—Three Followers
of "Jim" Smith Win Approval of Electorate.

Three anti-Wilson Democrats, one Wilson Democrat and one Progressive Republican, who voted for President Wilson, were elected to govern Jersey City yesterday under the commission form of government adopted by the voters there two months ago.

Former Mayor Mark M. Fagan is the lone Republican chosen, and he was high man. The other commissioners elected are A. Harry Moore, a Wittpenn Democrat, and Frank Hague, George F. Brensinger and James J. Ferris, all of whom were ardently supported by the followers of "Jim" Smith and his machine. Thomas J. Stewart, the only other Republican among the ten candidates, was sixth.

The result of the election is a defeat for Mayor H. O. Wittpenn of Jersey City, who is the candidate of President Wilson's friends for the Democratic nomination for Governor this fall. Wittpenn confidently expected that at least three of the five candidates supported by him and his organization would win, and the success of the three anti-Wittpenn Democrats practically puts him out of the running for Governor.

Fagan Polls 21,419.

The vote was as follows:

Mark M. Fagan	21,419
George F. Brensinger	19,010
James J. Ferris	18,977
Frank Hague	17,429
A. Harry Moore	15,378
Thomas J. Stewart	13,477
Carl G. Schuman	12,425
Charles O'Neil	12,247
Joseph Farmer	11,899
John H. Morris	10,534

The five commissioners chosen yesterday will serve for four years, unless each one or all of them should be recalled in the meantime. Mr. Fagan is an undertaker and is also a member of the Hudson County Tax Board. He served three terms as Mayor of Jersey City.

Mr. Ferris is a business man, Mr. Brensinger is a lawyer, Mr. Moore has been a public officeholder for the last six years and Mr. Hague also has been an officeholder for many years. He is the Smith leader of Hudson County and fought against the election of Wilson delegates to the recent Democratic National Convention.

Interest in the election was keen, a crowd of 10,000 persons being in and around the City Hall when the returns were being received. The total vote cast was 31,387, 287 less than participated in the primaries a month ago, and only a couple of thousand less than the number voting at the election in November. Although the campaign was an strenuous one, the election yesterday was comparatively quiet.

The results of yesterday's election came as a surprise, for it was expected at least three of the Wittpenn candidates would pull through, thus allowing the Mayor to retain his hold on the city's affairs. Mr. Wittpenn made a personal fight for his candidates, going on the stump each night and delivering many speeches in their behalf. It was really a fight for his political life, because on the result of the election depended whether or not he was to become the Democratic candidate for Governor this fall. It is now generally believed that Mr. Wittpenn has been eliminated as a strong factor in the contest for Governor, despite the fact that the President's friends intend to stick to him.

Fielder's Chances Improved.

Governor James F. Fielder, one of Mayor Wittpenn's opponents for Governor, also lives in Jersey City, and yesterday's results are taken as an indication that he won't have much difficulty in carrying this city at the coming primaries.

The five commissioners elected yesterday will formally take charge of the affairs of Jersey City on Tuesday, when Mayor Wittpenn will retire from office. About the first thing they will do will be to select one of their number as Mayor, who will have no greater power than the other commissioners, save that he will preside at the meetings of the commission. He will receive an additional $500 a year in salary. Each commissioner will receive $3,000 a year.

After selecting a Mayor, the commissioners will then divide the city government into five departments, each department having a commissioner at its head. All of the present boards will be abolished. These departments are Public Affairs, which will be in charge of the Mayor; Accounts and Finance; Streets and Public Improvements; Public Safety; and Parks and Public Property.

The Accounts and Finance Department will absorb the present Board of Finance, the City Collector's office, the Tax office, the City Treasurer's office and the Controller's office. The Street and Improvement Department will take over the work now done by the Street and Water Board, the Public Safety Department will take over the Police, Fire and Health departments, and the Parks and Public Property Department will take over the Shade Tree Commission, the Harbor Board and the City Hall Commission.

Each commissioner will have complete control of his department, and can be held individually responsible for its conduct, and if he fails to make good he can be recalled by the citizens after he has served a year.

Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, came from Washington yesterday afternoon to vote.

OIL OUSTER REPORT MADE

Missouri